WORKING DOG DEMOS

26th, 27th and 28th January

Open 8.30 - 4

Working dogs are an essential tool for a stockman. One dog can do the work of six to eight men and the dog never calls in sick on a Monday morning. Working dogs are also weatherproof and are happy to work for pats and kibble.

The Farm Dog Survey by Sydney University found that a working dog costs a Stockman around $8,000 in its lifetime but does about $40,000 worth of work in its lifetime.

Queensland Yard & Utility Trial Association Inc (QYUTA) is the new state association established for yard and utility trialling in Queensland. QYUTA's aims are to promote, support and encourage the training of working dogs generally. Our focus is to promote public interest and education in working dogs and livestock handling. We will be conducting demonstrations throughout the course of the day.
